

Space Faring Civilisation (SFC) Film Festival 2021

Call For Sponsorship

Introduction

There are just too many negative science fiction and documentaries focusing on our flaws. What the world needs now is hope and inspiration for the future - and that's the aim of the SFC Film Festival. To serve as a beacon of hope for the future, by bringing science and art together. Inspiring the next generation of scientists, engineers, artists and space pioneers. Uplifting us all to build a united, peaceful and progressive Space Faring Civilisation together.

On 9th October 2021, in Canberra Australia, the SFC Film Festival will be the first festival in the world to bring together Optimistic Sci-Fi & Space Documentaries. Our aim is to support and encourage filmmakers to make more positive and inspiring films that revolve around space exploration, discovering amazing realities about our universe and ourselves, in both narrative and documentary forms.

Why should you sponsor this film festival?

By sponsoring the SFC Film Festival you'll be directly reaching two hundred plus audience members on the day. Those in attendance range from space and sci-fi enthusiasts to filmmakers, and your marketing stalls and video ads will be on display at the event. On top of this, your name and brand will be credited on our website and festival marketing materials, where countless space & sci-fi fans around the world will be exposed to your brand.

In addition, you will make valuable contacts and connections at the SFC Film Festival, which could lead to future collaborations with other professionals and entrepreneurs in the film, space and science industries. And, apart from the wonderful advertising opportunity, you will be investing in building a better future.

Contact Masoud at SFC Films directly for more information... and let's reach for the stars together.
